SERVICE

UNDERGRADUATE

Member and Co-Founder of Boise State University Sources of Strength (Spring 2019 - Spring 2020)

Sources of Strength is an upstream wellness program revolving around suicide prevention and normalizing the conversation around student mental health. This program is the first of its kind on Boise State’s campus and is being implemented through student and faculty volunteers. I helped implement the first year of this program alongside the Dean of Students to plan events and campaigns relating to student mental health awareness.

Volunteer at Marian Pritchett High School/Boise State Computer Science Department (Spring 2020)

I worked with a team of Computer Science professors and students to address the lack of diversity in tech by doing outreach at a local high school for pregnant and parenting teenagers. The program introduced computer science concepts to these women while collaborating with them to develop an application for their needs. The app we built with the students will connect them with low-cost, healthy meals. Our work included going to the school and planning outreach for the students to design and create the application themselves, and providing mentorship.
